Review of the Academic Year

DEAN FAUTEAUX

Boasting approximately 30 departments, Colorado college offers courses in science, engineering, forestry, and arts, with the Broadmoor Art Academy and the School of Music in addition.

The Engineering Department offers courses enabling the students to receive a degree of Bachelor of Science, with a major in civil, electrical, geological, and chemical engineering. The civil laboratory consists of equipment valued at approximately $10,000. The summer school at Manitou Park is owned in connection with the forestry department, where field practice is held in surveying on the 6,200 acre tract owned by the department.

Lorena Berger was appointed acting secretary of the college in the absence of W. D. Copeland, who is taking graduate work at Harvard. In addition to her work as secretary, her office keeps in contact with high schools of the state and country, supplying them with information about the college, and advising students intending to enter C. C.

Courses in French, Spanish, Italian, and German were offered by the Department of Romance Languages. Many students major in the department, in addition to the customary number who take the course to satisfy the minimum language requirements. Clubs in Spanish, French, and German have been organized and meet regularly.

Professor Albright instructed study of the solar system again this year, featuring the history of the subject.

Minimum science requirements, biology majors, and pre-medical courses can be taken in the biology department. Professor Gilmore continued his study of the salamander. For the second year, Dr. Penland has been studying plant life of the high altitudes in cooperation with the Carnegie Foundation.

In addition to their large wooded tract in Manitou Park, the forestry department is in close contact with the Fremont Experiment Station and the Monument Nursery, units of the government's forestry service.

DEAN LOVITT

Jack F. Lawson, city editor of the Colorado Springs Gazette, heads the department of journalism and offers two courses, one a general survey of newspaper work, and the other an advanced course, with the elementary work as a pre-requisite.

Both major and minor requirements can be filled in the geology department, under Professor Keyte. Structural and petroleum geology are both offered.

Vocal and instrumental music are offered by the Department of Music, with majors receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree. Euterpe, the musical society of the campus, offers frequent recitals,—a feature of the department.

The Department of Dramatics presented several plays under the direction of Arthur G. Sharp, Jr., of the English Department.

Mrs. Louise W. Fauteaux, Dean of Women, and William V. Lovitt, Dean of Men, have continued as advisers and supervisors of the undergraduates. The former is also ex-officio and advisory member of the legislative board of the associated women students.

A major in chemical engineering may be obtained from the chemical department, while merely fulfilling the science requirements may be done equally well. The department has had half a dozen projects this year.

A. P. R. Drucker, professor of business and Jacob Swart of the economics department, keep their departments in close touch with each other. Professor Drucker has had several articles and texts published in the last few years.

Courses in education and library work can be obtained, with a graduate of the school eligible to teach in the N. C. A. C. S. schools.

Professor Brown has taken the head of the Philosophy Department this year, with large classes in all of his courses.

The English Department has offered many new courses this year. Miss Jessie Hutsinpillar, who has been on a year's leave, returned to resume her classes.

MISS LORENA BERGER

Both President C. C. Microw and Dr. H. E. Microw have given courses in the Department of Classical Language and Literature, in addition to publishing several magazine articles.

Dr. Edith Bramhall, of the Political Science Department is a member of the city council of Colorado Springs and gives her classes the added benefits of her experience.

Dr. Archer B. Hulbert, of the History Department, is giving several courses which will either allow the student to major in the course, or merely satisfy the social science requirements. Dr. Hulbert is the author of half a dozen books on history, and factors of history, with "Frontiers" being his most recent contribution.

In the absence of Mr. Copeland, H. E. Mathias, assistant professor of Geology has been appointed Field Representative of the college (Mr. Mathias in the course of his duties, visits high schools of the state, interviewing students interested in Colorado college, and advising them in their choice of courses, registration, and anything pertaining to the school which the prospective student might wish to know.)

Dr. Gilmore, in addition to his work with the biology department, is also conducting a survey among the students and faculty, in an effort to increase the school's enrollment. Questions pertaining to courses, majors and minors, requirements, the admission of sororities, and many other matters were asked in the questionnaire.

Associated Students of Colorado College

The administrative council, the governing body of the Associated Students, has introduced no radical changes but has followed a program of constructive improvement along all lines of activity.

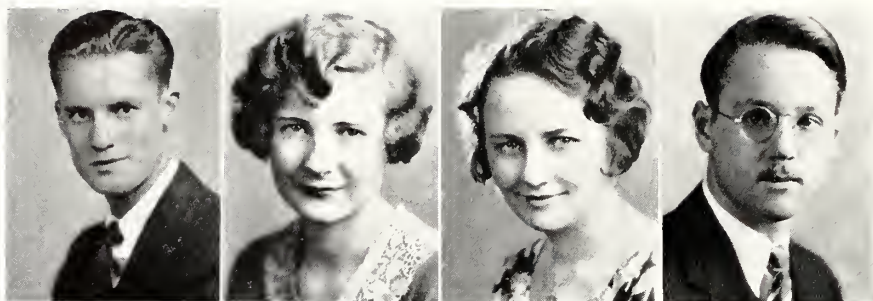

At the beginning of the year Montgomery hall was taken over by the association to be used as a Student Union building. After a short time, however, this plan was dropped due to financial difficulties.

The council has maintained a strict supervision over all financial matters and as a result the financial status of the association is in very good shape.

A new plan of paying the manager of the handbook proved very successful, and an investigation is now underway as to the feasibility of extending this or a similar plan to other managerships.

For the third year a delegate was sent to the conference of the National Student Federation of America, an organization whose purpose it is to improve student government throughout the country. Mildred Strachan, a junior member of the council, represented Colorado college at the convention which was held in Atlanta, Georgia. Many problems directly affecting this school were discussed at the gathering.

More all-college dances have been held than in previous years and the success of these is a direct result of the council's work—always favoring closer contact between the students.

COMMITTEES

JUNIOR PROM: Juan Reid and Kenneth Pomeroy staged the Junior Prom for the class of 1932.

VARSITY JUBILEE: The annual all-college party, the Varsity Jubilee, consisting of bridge, a show, a dance, and something to eat all in the same evening, was managed by Marvin Russell and Hugh Baker.

HOMEcoming, parades, pep-meetings, student hospitality, and all were under the direction of Bill Anderson.

SENIOR PLAY: Humphrey Saunders took the managership of the Senior Play.

ENTHUSIASM COMMITTEE: The Enthusiasm chairman for the year was Dick Young, who organized parades and other demonstrations by the student body.

MAGNA PAN-PAN: Ralph Smith managed Magna Pan-Pan, annual all college vaudeville and local talent show, staged just before the closing of school for Christmas.

TRADITIONS COMMITTEE: Traditions, especially those pertaining to the frosh, and their habits on the campus, were handled by Dick Vanderhoof.

SHOVE MEMORIAL CHAPEL

EUGENE P. SHOVE

DR. PAUL ROBERTS

"May our strongest hope and prayer be that this building may stand for a challenge to the present and succeeding generations of boys and girls that shall pass and repass within sight and hearing; the challenge that is flung to them by Jesus Christ to dare to live His way of life and to dare to believe in His kingdom of the truth. And may it find a response in their minds and hearts until they can say: 'We believe in a Christlike World. We know of nothing better. We can be content with nothing less'."

With these words, Dr. Paul Roberts, rector of Grace and St. Stephen's Episcopal church, sounded the keynote of the ceremonies for the laying of the Shove Memorial Chapel cornerstone, in the closing address of the event, October 17, 1930.

The student bodies of last year and this year have been privileged in seeing the first building erected on the campus since 1914, and a structure that promises to be an addition that this school or any school might not only be glad—but proud, to receive.

Preliminary excavations and ground work for the chapel, designed by John Gray of Pueblo, began a year ago, but it was not until school was well underway last fall that the structure began to take form, and to rear itself toward the sky. Since then, progress has been steady, and it is hoped that the freshman class, entering next fall, will see the completion of the work.

The chapel itself is to be of severe Norman-Romanesque architecture, with the inspiration for the design coming from the ancient buildings of England and Normandy. An attempt has been made to keep the design unassuming and dignified, and at the same time have a mass and height sufficient to dominate the other buildings on the campus. It is being constructed by Platt-Rogers of Pueblo.

To The Rector and Churchwardens,
Saron, Surrey, England.

Greetings:

We the President and Board of Trustees of Colorado College, an Institution of Learning, situated in the City of Colorado Springs, in the State of Colorado, of the United States of America, after due deliberation, most respectfully seek consideration of the following request:

Whereas, Edward Shove, Gent., born in the year of our Lord, fifteen hundred and eighty, Rector of Saron, Surrey, 1613-1646, departing this life, left a son, Edward Shove, Gent., 1606-1638, who took passage to New England in 1638, but died at sea, and his widow and two children, trusting in GOD in their bereavement, with faith and courage, settled in the town of Rowley, Massachusetts.

And Whereas, Eugene Percy Shove, of the City of Colorado Springs, Colorado, lineal descendant of the said Edward Shove, has, in his generosity, bequeathed to Colorado College, the sum of three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to erect, found and establish, unto the honour and worship of GOD and for the establishment of Christian faith, a building to be known as the Shove Memorial Chapel, embodying therein memorials to his forebears identified with the preaching of the Gospel.

Now Therefore, the aforesaid President and Board of Trustees, agree, that it would be a worthy and gracious act, to build into the Shove Memorial Chapel, an original brown stone from the Church of Saron, Surrey, thus forming a link between the past and present, and witnessing the reverent and painstaking devotion of our common ancestors; so that youth, in whose hands rest the hope and destiny of this Nation, may for all time be inspired by the visual evidence of this hewn stone.

To this end and purpose we most respectfully submit this request for the donation of such a hewn stone.

Further, it is understood that, in the event of this request being graciously granted, it is right and fitting that all expenses, and charges for services rendered, contingent on the removal and replacement of such stone be borne by the parties herein making this request.

In Witness Whereof, we attach our hand and seal this 27th day of March, in the year of our Lord,
Nineteen Hundred and Thirtz.

Charles C. McGowan,
President.

It is hoped to build it in the same manner as the old cathedrals, and to have the same enduring quality. Indiana limestone is being used in the body of the building, with red tile on the roof.

Entrance will be from the west. Over the arch will be the inscription—"The things which are seen are temporal, but the things that are not seen are eternal." On the opposite face of the building one will find, "Understanding is a well spring of life unto him that hath it."

After going thru the west entrance, one will find himself in the body of the chapel, seating 700 people. Three balconies will accommodate 300 more, while the faculty and a large choir may be seated on the platform. The morning chapel, a memorial to the Shove family, will be south of the main chapel, and will seat 60.

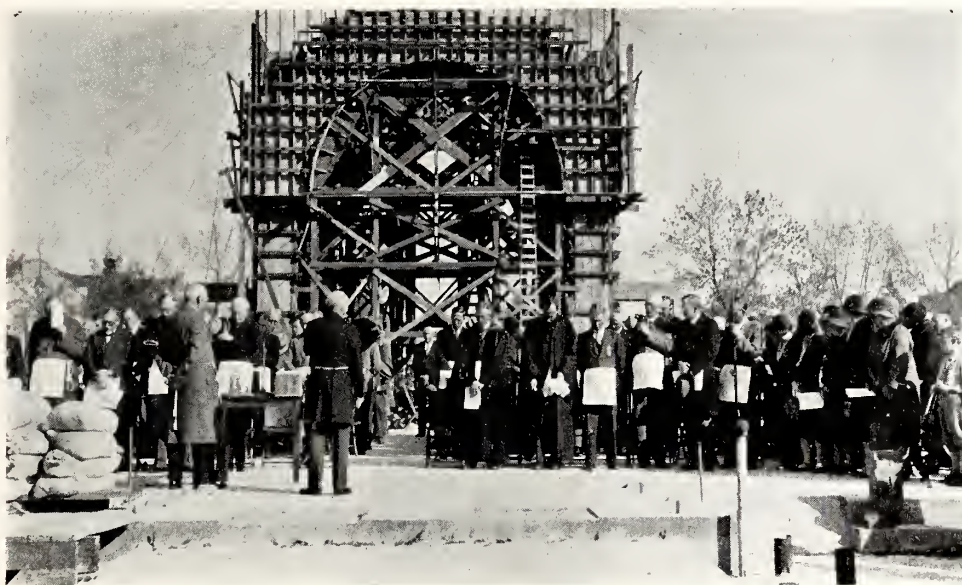

In the basement there will be a lecture hall for the use of the Department of Religion, under the head of Dr. James G. McMurtry, dean of the chapel and of the department. An office will be installed for the head of the department. Biblical literature will be kept in this part of the chapel, near the lecture room.

The square tower, with the unornamented top typical of Norman architecture, will rise from the eastern end of the building, enclosing the clock works and chimes.

A contract has been given for the tower clock together with the Westminster chimes and a deep toned bell to strike the hours, to Gillett and Johnston, Ltd., at Croyden, England, a bell foundry which supplied carillons for many of the great churches of the world, including the new Riverside Church of New York City, and the new chapel of the University of Chicago.

Mr. R. F. A. Housman, who is here representing the English company believes that architect Gray's plan for lighting automatically the clock and tower with flood lights each time the hour or quarter hour strikes, is being used for the first time. The dial which will be six feet in diameter will be of a skeleton design, allowing an open face, and consequently not hiding any of the architecture of the building.

The chimes will consist of five bells ranging from 672 to 11,200 pounds in weight. The large bell will be 80 inches in diameter, the largest between Chicago and the coast. The striking and chimes will stop at 10 o'clock each night, in order to prevent disturbing sleepers in the vicinity. The whole apparatus will be operated electrically and will be in operation late this season.

Around the entire tower, occupying all four sides, will run one inscription—"God who caused the light to shine out of darkness hath shined in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

On the large bell will be inscribed—"Yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream."

In addition to the clock and chimes, a pipe organ will be installed by the Welte-Tripp Co., and a definite plan will be drawn up for the stained glass windows, making them as appropriate and as connected in theme as possible.

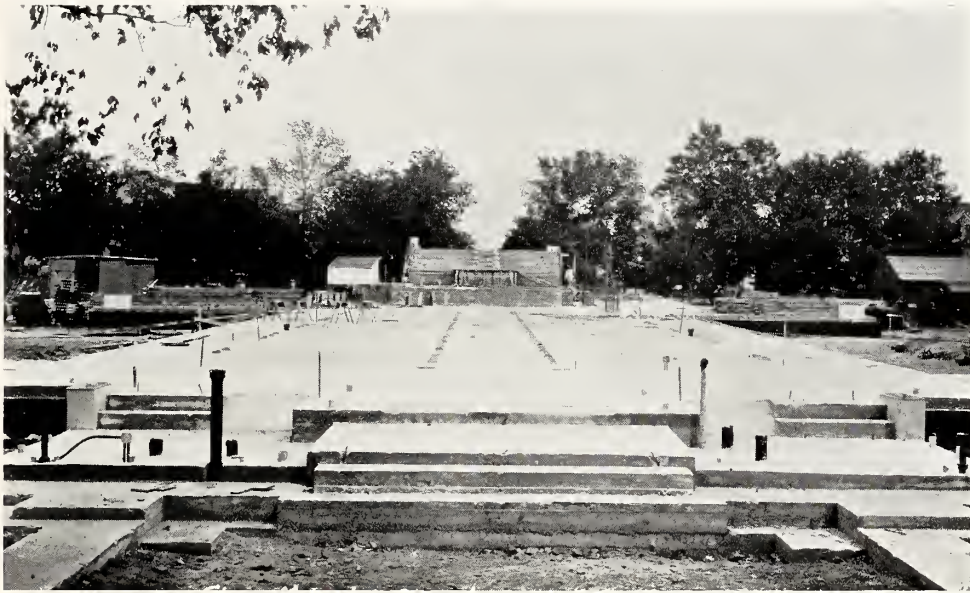

The actual construction work on the chapel is to cost $213,000. Electrical, heating, and ventilating equipment will cost an additional $22,600. The organ and chimes add $19,200 and $19,500 to the total, making the ultimate outlay for the finished building approximately $275,000. Stained glass windows and furnishings will bring the cost of the building, ready for use, close to $300,000.

Part of the history of the three stones imbedded in the walls of the small service chapel can be obtained from the introductory remarks offered at the opening of the ceremonies, October 17, 1930. In part, Dr. C. C. Mierow, president of the college, said:

"On Tuesday, June 10, 1930, we assembled on this spot to break ground for The Shove Memorial Chapel, the first academic building to be erected on the campus of Colorado College since 1914.

"Today we are gathered to participate in the ceremonies connected with the laying of the cornerstone of the Chapel and of certain ancient stones from England.

"The cornerstone is to be laid at two o'clock this afternoon at the north-west corner of the building and we trust that all of you who can do so will be present at that time also.

"It will be remembered that this academic chapel building is erected by the College through the generosity of Mr. Eugene P. Shove, who has been for the past eighteen years a member of its Board of Trustees. It is to serve as a memorial to his clergyman ancestors of the past twelve generations.

"In the year of our Lord 1602, a certain Edward Shove came to Winchester Cathedral in England to be ordained to preach the Gospel. From 1602-1615 he was vicar of Leigh Surrey. From 1615-1646 he was Rector of Gatton Surrey. Edward Shove went to Cambridge in 1625, graduating from King's College, Cambridge, in 1629.

"Through the courtesy of the three ancient institutions which I have named and of Oxford University, as well, we have received and are to build into the walls of our own Chapel, stones which once formed part of their buildings.

"Mr. Shove will himself lay the ancient stone from Gatton where his ancestor served as Rector for thirty-one years."

Following this introduction, the ancient stones from Gatton was laid by Mr. Eugene P. Shove. Immediately following this ceremony, Bishop Irving P. Johnson, Episcopal Bishop of Colorado laid the three stones from Winchester Cathedral; King's College, Cambridge, and Christ Church, Oxford.

Following the dedicatory prayer by Bishop Johnson, adopted son of the college and a friend of long standing, addresses were given by Dr. James G. McMurtry, and Bishop Johnson.

Actual laying of the cornerstone was held on the afternoon of the same day, with the Masonic order in charge of the ceremonies—the late Horace H. Mitchell, Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Colorado, presiding.

Led by the Colorado college band, the Masonic procession marched to the stage for the opening of the event. Following a prayer by the Grand Chaplain, the Rev. Robert Robinson Adams of Denver, the actual laying was completed.

Following the laying of the cornerstone, Dr. Wallace Harper Carver, pastor of the first Presbyterian church, and Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge, spoke in behalf of the Masons.

In part, Dr. Carver said: "As we look into the years before us, we can see great results from the building of this beautiful Temple. As it shall stand here in the center of this campus, and in a prominent place in our city, its spires will ever point God-ward.

"We pray that the Shove Memorial Chapel will lead the countless numbers who shall pass within its portals to make their lives worthy of their day and generation, and be so infused with the spirit of the living God that their lives will be spiritual temples, glorifying God, and serving their fellowmen after the pattern of Him who came 'not to be ministered unto, but to minister,' and thus give their lives in loving service to God and man."

Colorado college is extremely fortunate in having this new chapel, thru the generosity of Eugene P. Shove, trustee of the college since 1912. Only thru the continued and appreciative use of the new building, not only this year but in years to come, can we show our true appreciation of this gift—a long step toward the ultimate goal of a "Greater Colorado college."

THE PIKES PEAK NUGGET

This year the school year book comes out under the editorship of Chauncey H. Blodgett, Jr., and Gil Rice, manager. These two have the assistance of an editorial and managerial staff that perhaps pass the producers of the book in ability.

Ostensibly, the Nugget is the sole property of the junior class, for it originated as such, but for as long as anyone can remember, the book has been the year book of the entire school, and the only reminder that it still morally belongs to the junior class is found in the numbers '32, which appear with regularity almost any place in the book that you might choose to look.

In addition to merely setting down the cold facts of the school year, we have endeavored to temper them with a little sentiment, and have attempted to make it possible to read between the lines and see something of college life that we cannot put down in words and figures.

The editor and manager take this opportunity to thank their respective staffs for the wholehearted co-operation and the large amount of time that each has given toward this year book—and without which its production would be impossible.

COLORADO COLLEGE TIGER

This is the second year that the Tiger, weekly publication of the college, has been issued in the form of a news magazine.

It has been the concerted effort of this year's staff to lead all student opinion, to include all campus organizations, and to foster cooperation among all campus activities without being disloyal to the college administration.

An earnest attempt has been made to keep the paper clean and up to the highest standard. That this has been accomplished may account in great measure for the fact that the Tiger received fourth place in the Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Press Association rating.

Each spring the editor and manager are elected by the associated students' council, the other members of the staff being chosen in the fall. Anyone interested in working on the college paper is encouraged to do so,—the only requirement being faithfulness in completing assignments.

STUDENT HANDBOOK

Every fall this compact, newsy little booklet is presented to all students of Colorado college, with all the revisions necessary to keep it up to date.

Altho primarily for the incoming frosh, it serves the old students as an excellent reminder of C. C. rules and traditions, as well as giving the school calendar and various directories.

Gil Rice, manager of the Nugget, was the man chosen by the publications committee to edit this year's handbook—which he has done with no profit to himself, and consequently at less cost to the student body.

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING

Drawn out by the summer weather and with the hope of seeing the old cronies again, several hundred Colorado College grads returned to their Alma Mater to chew the rag and to meet again the old friends of college days,—and to see the Tiger face his traditional enemy, Colorado University.

The Homecoming celebration opened Friday night with a big barbecue in Cossitt stadium under the auspices of the officers of the Sophomore and Freshman classes. Following the eats a short program of tap dancing and songs was presented by the yearling class.

HOMECOMING

Even the Boulder game was a success and although beaten by one point 14-13, everyone went home feeling that the Silver and Gold was lucky to eke out a victory over the fighting Tiger squad.

Following the game President and Mrs. Mierow held open house for the returning alumni and friends of the college. Well over a hundred attended the alumni luncheon at Bemis Hall at which time it was announced that Mr. E. P. Shove had donated an additional one hundred thousand dollars for the maintainance of the Shove Memorial Chapel. With all of the fraternity houses decorated the campus had the celebration aspect. Society breakfasts and fraternity buffet suppers were also in order and in every way the annual Homecoming celebration was a success.

MAGNA PAN PAN

The annual Magna Pan Pan was presented to the student body just before the Christmas vacation. This year's Pan Pan was managed by Ralph Smith and he deserves a lot of credit for the wonderful way that the vaudeville was put on.

The various acts were full of fine amateur drama, exciting situations, and laughs, and the vaudeville was well worth the nominal admission price that was charged to defray expenses.

Kappa Sigma presented "Mortgaged Love," a vivid portrayal of the old farm and villain story. Beta Theta Pi put on the "Shooting of Dan McGrew" and received its share of the laughs. "Little David" was presented by the Phi Delt. This novel act was taken from "Green Pastures." The Minervas gave "Spanish Goulash" with a bull fight as the main feature.

First prize was given to the Phi Gams in the fraternity division with the Crescent Club taking the prize in the society division.

GREEK PLAY

On May 28th and June 7th at Cogswell Theater, the annual Greek play, sponsored by Eta Sigma Phi National Classical Fraternity was presented. The Greek tragedy "Andromache" was the play chosen.

JUNIOR FARCE

Between the first and second semesters the junior class presented to the student body "Nothing But the Truth." This was their annual farce and was one of the best dramatic productions of the year. Mildred Strachan and Bruce Gray took the leads and kept the audience in an uproar during the whole performance. Fran Willis, Wayne Campbell, Ken Pomeroy, and Joe Mereer also gave the crowd many a laugh.

The proceeds of the Farce were given to the Class. This year's farce was managed by Harry Peterson.

DEBATING

Completing one of the most successful forensic seasons in the history of the school, a squad of four men from Colorado college last Spring engaged in debate with teams of the leading schools of the country. This trip, the longest and most extensive ever undertaken by a Colorado squad, put debating as done by the Tigers on a new high plane comparable to that found anywhere in the United States.

The schedule this year called for a heavy home program, leaving little opportunity for foreign conquests. Participation in six conference debates and an equal number of outside meetings has kept the squad busy.

The Colorado Debate Conference held during the first week in March in Greeley saw a squad of ten men representing Colorado College. The increase in interest in debate work in the past few years has been very noticeable here, and this year's large squad gives nothing but the brightest outlook for future work in this field.

THE COLONIAL BALL

The ball is a tradition of some 34 years, and for some time was only for hall girls, but is now open to all women of the college. The affair is held in Bemis commons, and a dinner usually precedes the dancing.

The feature of the evening, the Minuet, was presented by 16 girls selected from the second year class. Appropriate costumes were worn. Those in the dance this year were Ruth Macdonald, Mary Agnes Wehrle, Olive Bradley, Edwina Creighton, Margaret Johnson, Anebel Ohrstedt, Maryana Sackett, Patsy Raney, Marjorie Gilbert, Norma Holmquest, Georgia Pickett, Rose Helen Torbit, Louise Buckley, Janet Fisher, Annie Mary McAnn, and Margaret Wolever.

Committees planning for the event were headed by Carol Collier, Jane Hedrick, Mary Elizabeth Pitts, Marjorie Gilbert, Ruth Macdonald, Patsy Raney, and Norma Holmquest.

DRAMATICS

Last year's Nugget states that "Dramatics, under the direction of Arthur G. Sharp, Jr., took a new lease on life." If they took a new lease on life last year, they bought it this year, for not only did Koshare and the school stage over a half dozen plays of major proportions, but Colorado college was one of a dozen schools from all over the country invited to take part in the annual tournament conducted by Northwestern University. This last honor alone is indicative of the growth in dramatics that has taken place.

Altho the tournament play, "The Return of Private Krutch," by T. C. Tate and Mr. Sharp, failed to win the trophy, Miss Mary Strachan was awarded a gold medal as the most finished amateur actress in the tournament.

"Nothing but the Truth," the Junior Farce, and "Lady Windermere's Fan," played to raise money to send Koshare to the Northwestern meet, both played to packed houses.

A homecoming play was offered, as well as one at Christmas, "Eager Heart," an annual production. As a final offering, three one act plays were given early in April to raise additional money for the trip to Evanston.

MISS NADINE KENT
First Beauty Honors

MISS KATHERINE HERBERT
Honorable Mention

After the judging of the beauties at the Junior Prom had ended in a tie among five contestants, the pictures were sent to Rudy Vallee for final judgment.

Mr. Vallee selected the foregoing girls as the outstanding beauties of the campus. These pictures, with the judge's decision and initials signed on them, were presented to the winners at student assembly on the day the Nugget was issued.

GROWLERS' CLUB

The Growlers' Club is the spark that keeps the pep of the school in good condition. They attend games in a body and generally are the center of enthusiasm at any sort of a student body gathering. In addition, the club stages stunts at football games, organizes and leads parades, and supports all-school social functions.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF SURVEYING

The 1930 Summer School of Surveying, held during the month of June, under the supervision of Prof. Frank M. Okey, brought to a close the most successful year that Civil Engineering Department of Colorado College has ever experienced. The Summer School of Surveying is held each June at Camp Colorado in Manitou Park, one of the most beautiful tracts of timbered land in the Rocky Mountains. The park consists of about 10,000 acres, a gift to Colorado College by General William Jackson Palmer and Dr. W. A. Bell. This gift gave to Colorado College the distinction of being one of the very few colleges in the United States owning its own field laboratory for surveying. This distinction is heightened by the fact that no other college has its field laboratory so uniquely situated with regard to proximity and accessibility to the campus.

Thirty students, comprising members from the Civil, Geology, and Forestry departments, contributed to the success of the camp, both in the quality and the quantity of the work done. The work consisted of plane surveying, railroad location, and plane-table and surveying. The office work, done in the study halls at night consisted largely of drawing maps and making computations from the field notes of the day's work. Recreation consisted of baseball, "barnyard golf," hiking and the inevitable pranks of camp life. Everything combined to make the month a delightful, educational vacation.

ATHLETICS

THE YEAR'S GREATEST DEFEAT

A tragic death caused great sorrow at Colorado College early last fall when Harold Akin of Fruita, Colorado, died from injuries received in football scrimmage. His death was caused by a hard tackle in the first practice of the year. The accident happened on Tuesday and death followed after four days of unconsciousness. The circumstances which surrounded his demise were unfortunate and unpreventable.

Akin was a friend of all and was always found among the crowd. His work in the classroom was just as proficient as his play on the gridiron. "Ake," as he was known by his friends, was a straight-forward type of fellow who would have made Colorado College proud to claim him as a student or alumnus.

On the track "Ake" was the Tiger's fastest speed merchant, running both the century and furlong. In the conference meet he placed in the broad jump also.

Akin was a member of the class of 1932 and was a member of Beta Theta Pi.

COACHING STAFF

COACH WILLIAM T. VAN DE GRAAFF

Coach "Bully" Van de Graaff completed this year his fifth season as head coach and director of athletics at Colorado College. Although he has been handicapped by the lack of material and extremely small squads, hardly two full teams, Van de Graaff has put elevens on the field that have been feared on every campus in the Rocky Mountain Conference. The Tiger squads of the past five years have played fast snappy football and a fighting game that has endeared them to the heart of every loyal Tiger fan.

During his undergraduate days, Van de Graaff played tackle for Alabama's "Crimson Horde," receiving All-American berths two years. After graduating from Alabama, he entered West Point where he played three years at tackle for the Army.

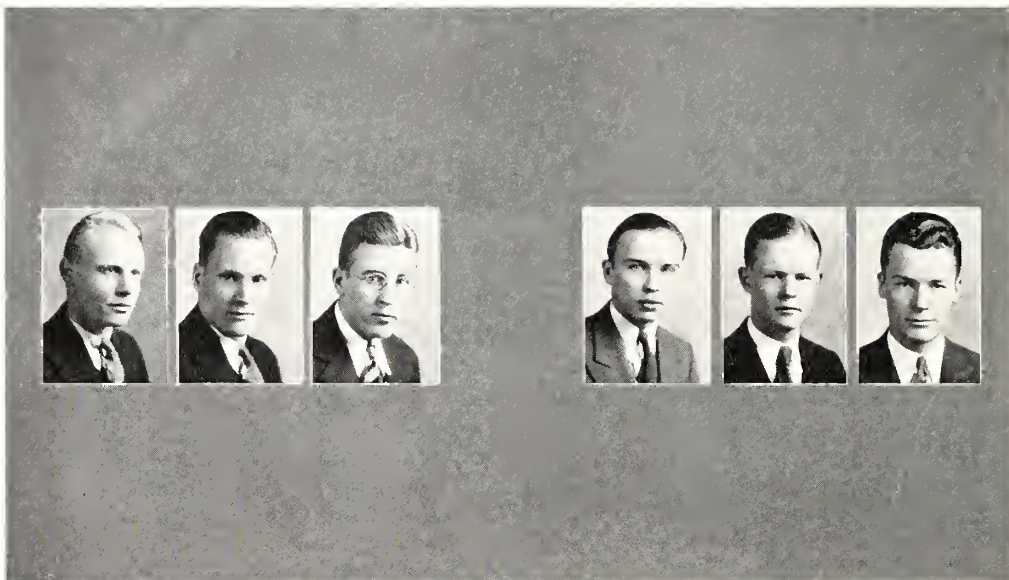

COACH "DUTCH" CLARK

"Dutch" after four years of college athletics that brought him fame and honor returned to his Alma Mater to serve as head basketball coach and assistant football coach.

While playing in a Tiger uniform "Dutch" won a letter in every major sport, twice captained the basketball squad, captained the football squad, and in his Junior year was selected All-American quarterback by the Associated Press scribes. In track "Dutch" holds the National A. A. U. junior hammer throw championship, and was selected as a member of the All-American track squad that competed against the All-British squad in Chicago last summer.

COACH IRISH

Coach Irish has coached the Tiger track squads for the past five years. During this time Jo has developed several conference winners. In his undergraduate days at the University of Illinois he was a star jumper. Irish holds such records as 24 feet for the broad jump, 6 feet 2½ inches in the high jump and 9 4-5 seconds for the century.

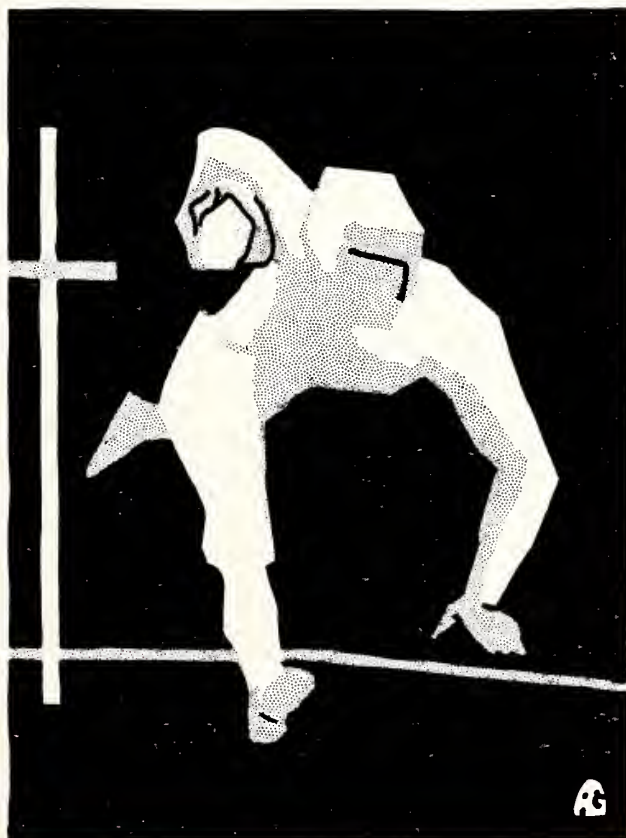

ANDERSON, VANDERHOOF, GRANT, MILES, BAKER, HENRITZE.

MANAGERS

All varsity athletics have one or more student managers. Although Jo Irish, graduate manager of athletics, has direct supervision over athletics he is assisted by student managers who are assigned to the various sports each year.

Downright tough luck dogged the 'Tigers' heels throughout the 1930 season, striking its first and hardest blow when Akin, speedy young halfback, received injuries in practice which caused his death.

Then, in the Utah Aggie game on a freak penalty which gave the Ags two points because the mere heel of the Tiger punter slid back over the boundary line behind the C. C. goal, the Tigers lost 7-8. The next appearance was in the game with Teachers, in which Butler of Teachers on a fluke caught his own pass, going over for the touchdown which tied the game, 7-7.

The fact that C. C. scored four touchdowns during the season, which were disallowed because of penalties, two of which would have won games, seems to be another evidence of dame misfortune's presence. While the fact that six points properly distributed would have put the 'Tigers in second place at the end of the season, seems to be another.

However, since graduation will take but a few, the gang is looking for a great season next year.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

A large squad of high school stars answered Coach Roessner's first call for Freshman football, but the squad dwindled down to a mere handful toward the end of the season. The task of the "Frosh" is not to play interscholastic games, but to provide opposition for the Varsity. Night after night the yearlings practiced in order to furnish interesting scrimmage for the Tigers.

Four games were scheduled, but two were canceled. The D. U. Freshmen invaded Washburn field for the opening game and defeated the Bengal Cubs to the tune of 24-7. The first half ended with the Baby Tigers in the lead, but Denver opened up in the second half with a flock of successful passes that swept the Tigers off their feet.

The Tigers made it 500 per cent in the percentage column on Armistice Day when they downed the Mines Frosh by a decisive score of 36-0.

The touted Tiger line demonstrated its right to the name in the season opener with Utah Ags, but the brilliant aerial game of the Aggies plus a little hard luck proved too much for C. C. Though the Tigers led, 7-0, at the half the two points which Utah received when a Tiger punter stepped over the end boundary line, with six points garnered by a touchdown gained chiefly on passes were enough to give them the game.

The feature of the game with Western State was the fact that each of C. C.'s seven touchdowns was scored by a different man, Irwin, Jones, Reid, Ingraham, Hartman, de Holezer and Owens each scoring while E. Starbuck broke in as the eighth man by kicking three points after touchdowns.

The game was marked by straight football to a great extent, with C. C. gaining 370 yards from scrimmage to 36 for the Mountaineers.

A jinx of six years standing was broken by D. U.'s beating the Tigers 6-0. A quick pass by Byers was responsible for putting the Pioneers in scoring position. It seemed to be an off day for the Tigers, for they did not play up to their usual form. They were within scoring distance just once, but lost the ball on downs with a half yard to go to make first down.

de Holczer played beautiful ball in the backfield, while McGrory was the pillar of the forward wall.

The Tigers, playing before a Homecoming crowd, won a moral victory although the score was 14-13 against them. They outgained C. U. in yards from scrimmage and outplayed them in every department of the game except the aerial department, where Boulder shone brilliantly enough to win. Excitement ran rife when C. C. pushed over a touchdown in the last minutes of play to make the score 14-13. The strain was just a little too much for the Tiger kicker and his attempt at conversion went wide.

C. C. went up against the buzz-saw of Utah determined to score and they did. A beautiful pass from Ingraham to Hinkley accounted for the coveted six points while but only one other team in the conference was able to score.

The game with Teachers was listless and slow throughout. Teachers, outplayed in every stage of the game, scored on a freak play when Butler, Teachers' captain, caught his own pass which had caromed from hand to hand, never touching the ground and never being caught, and dashed over for the tying touchdown. The Tigers scored a touchdown in this game which was disallowed because of penalties.

Although the 'Tigers were outgained 259 yards to 138, and though their goal was threatened many times they stiffened at the crucial moment and held the Farmers' steam roller scoreless. The 'Tigers themselves could not muster enough power to push the ball across the Aggies goal although Ingraham scampered around the ends with nice interference for good gains many times.

Wiedman played brilliantly in the line.

Colorado Mines 6

The game with Mines at Pueblo was a comedy of errors. C. C. scored early in the game and coasted the rest of the way through, using straight power football. Penalties cost the Tigers two touchdowns, one which was made on a long run by Ingraham and another which was put on the Miners one yard line by the combined smashing of Owens and de Holczer. Mines scored their touchdown on a long pass, but failed to convert the extra point. The Tigers gained 293 yards from scrimmage to 63 for Mines.

PROSPECTS FOR 1931 BRIGHT

Prospects for the 1931 season are especially bright as the graduation toll only took six men, and with a score of Freshmen coming up and a big squad from last year the Tigers should cause a good deal of grief for their opponents next fall.

Led by Captain Leon "Hap" Starbuck at tackle and the 1930 line returning almost intact Coach van de Graaff should have a strong squad. Reid, Pomeroy, Jones, de Holzer, E. Starbuck, Fries, Heter, Weidman, McGrory and Owens will also return next fall and will make the competition for places extremely keen.

On the last of October the Tiger eleven will journey back to West Point to tackle the Army. This game has been anticipated by the squad and student body alike for almost two years and will inaugurate a plan to place Colorado College athletics in a national aspect.

1931 SCHEDULE

September 26—Western State at Colorado Springs.

October 3—Utah Aggies at Logan.

October 10—Colorado Aggies at Colorado Springs.

October 31—Army at West Point.

November 21—Colorado University at Boulder

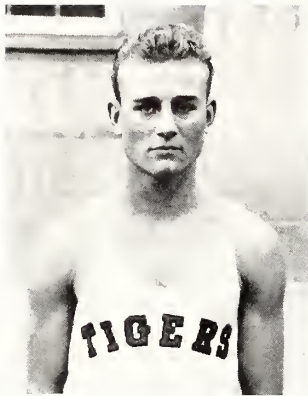

November 26—Mines at Colorado Springs.

Colorado Teachers tentatively scheduled for October 17 or 24.

BASKETBALL

Some forty men answered Coach Clark's first call for basketball among which were six letter men and a host of likely freshman prospects. The outlook for a good season being bright.

After trouncing all of the commercial league teams in the city the Black and Gold quintet early in December went on a barnstorming trip into Utah. On this trip we broke even in the percentage column winning from the Knights of Columbus squad in Pueblo and the D. & R. G. Railroaders in Grand Junction and losing a two game series to Utah University, 1931 conference champions, 39-24 and 53-23.

Returning home and determined to gain lost percentages the Tigers played two hard fought games with the Kansas Aggies losing both games by five point margins 39-34 and 37-32. The following week end the Bengals upset the dope bucket handing the Phillip Oilers their first defeat by a college five, 32-26. The following Monday and Tuesday nights saw the opening of the conference season against Western State. The Tigers played erratic ball and lost both games, 48-33 and 30-25. The same week we boosted our standing at D. U.'s expense 48-27.

Then came the two game series with the league leading Colorado Teacher Bears. The outcome was rather disappointing, but both squads played heads up ball. With but a few minutes to play in each game the Teachers started their stalling game, and the Tigers being weak on man for man defense crumbled, losing the first game 36-27 and the return game at Greeley 32-26. The Black and Gold five dropped further down the conference ladder in their return game with D. U. at Denver losing 36-30. The following week end the squad journeyed to Ft. Collins and shoved the battered Farmers to the bottom of the conference heap taking both games by 32-24 scores.

Returning home for a two game series with the Wyoming Cowboys, the following week end the Tigers were caught in the Cowboy's lassos and taken into camp 32-23 and 34-16. In a home and home series with Colorado Mines the Bengal quintet bolstered their standing winning 37-26 at home and 19-11 in the return game the following night at Golden.

As the final traditional games with Boulder approached it was the hope of all Tiger boosters that the Black and Gold five would be able to take both games and end the season with a 500 per cent, halfway up the percentage column. State took the first game by a 30-20 score and the next night at Boulder, Colorado U. defeated the Tigers again, 37-35 in one of the hardest fought games of the season.

The Tigers played good ball at times and again their play would be erratic. It seemed to depend upon the opponent as to the type of ball the team played. Captain Ingraham led the team at center with Glidden, Sabo, Slocum, and Doyle playing the offensive roles. Reid, Martin, Harter, Boothe, and Hinkley were strong defensive men.

Prospects for next year are much brighter with eight lettermen and four other players on the squad returning. Coach Clark will probably be back to coach again next season also.

Captain Ingraham closed a brilliant athletic career this year. His fight and leadership will be greatly missed next season.

GLIDDEN

THE TEAM

Juan Reid was the workhorse of the squad, jumping center and then dropping back into a guard position. He will be back for another stripe in basketball as well as football.

Guy Martin started the season at guard, but was later shifted up to center. "Marty" will be a senior next year.

Don Glidden was a newcomer this year and although one of the smallest men in the conference he was one of the fastest and most consistent players we had. "D." is only a freshman and will be back for more next year.

SLOCUM

THE TEAM

"Pop" Slocum played a good brand of ball and could always be counted on for several baskets. His eye from the corner was unfailing. "Pop" will be back for another stripe next year.

"Joe" Boothe was also a newcomer but developed into one of the cleverest guards seen in a long time. "Albie" will be back bidding for a berth again next year.

"Bob" Doyle won his third letter as a forward. Doyle is a clever man and has a dead eye for the hoop. He will be back again next year.

THE TEAM

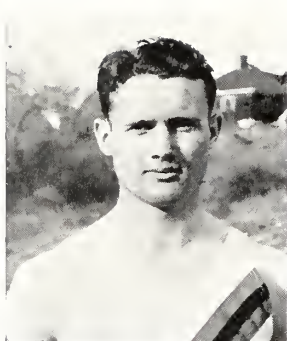

"Rus" Sabo, a former Notre Dame man, played a fast brand of ball. Although "Rus" never started a game he was always in before it was over. His clever dribbling and faking was a worry for every guard. Sabo will be back for two more stripes.

"Bill" Hinkley is the other man to graduate this year. "Bill" was a steady player and a real guard. He has earned his four stripes.

"Punk" Harter although not getting to show his wares until late in the season showed up to an advantage. Harter is only a freshman and will be back again next year.

"Ed" Parker served his second year as captain this year. He is the class of the conference distance men. During the National A. A. U. meet held in Denver last year he won the Junior Steeplechase race.

"Chuck" Cogan, captain elect, won his letter in the 880 and the relays; has two more years.

"Dutch" Clark was the outstanding man in the hammer throw. In dual meets "Dutch" was good for several first places in the weight events. He holds the National Junior A. A. U. hammer throw title.

Harold Akin, all-around athlete was the fastest man on the squad running both the century and furlong. He will be greatly missed this year.

"Doc" Vanderhoof performed in the weights, and graduates this year.

Jack Kintz was second only to Captain Parker in the distance runs. This year he will be the Tiger's mainstay in the mile and two mile.

Captained by Ken Pomeroy and coached by Walt Hughes, the Tiger squad of base runners played eight games, and finished the season with three games won and five lost. Considering that all of the games were played away from home, the team can be considered as having done unusually well, especially as baseball seems to be dying out in the Rocky Mountain Conference and Colorado college. The squad was small, but made up for that, however, by giving their opponents a good fight in every game, as shown by the scores.

The Tiger mashie wielders, led by Captain Dick Ragle, journeyed to Denver for their first match at the Welshire Country Club. Playing against C. U. and D. U., the Tigers came out third.

At Cherry Hills, the scene of the next match, and against the same two opponents, the Tigers eked out a second place.

All three teams met again at the Broadmoor golf course in Colorado Springs, and C. C. took third place.

Finishing up the season at Lakewood Country Club the Tigers took third place at the conference meet which was composed of Colorado college, Colorado university, Denver university, and Wyoming university. Butler, C. C. ace, distinguished himself by winning the Rocky Mountain individual championship with a total score of 250 for 54 holes.

Murray, Geshell, Jerry Cogan, and Garvin all took singles matches from D. U., while all these in addition to Koerner, Waters, and Engbretson were winners in doubles matches.

The same men, playing C. U. in a series of matches came out on the heavy end of the score.

Hartley Murray, who played his first year with the team, was elected captain of the 1931 squad.

WRESTLING

This year saw a revival of the mat sport under the direction of Coach Howard Waite and Prof. O. A. Barnes. Early in December a call was issued for prospective candidates with some forty men reporting. However, as the athletic department lacked the necessary equipment for such a large squad it was cut to four men.

Coach Waite took these four to the conference meet held in Boulder the last of February. E. Starbuck, Wolfe, and Cogan made the trip. Richards the fourth member was unable to compete on account of scholastic requirements. Starbuck was the only man to place in the conference meet taking second place in the 175 pound class.

INTER-FRATERNITY TRACK MEET

On April 5, the thinly-clad aspirants of each fraternity on the campus got together at Washburn field and had it out with each other at the annual Inter-Fraternity Track and Field Meet. Aided by Akin and Beatty, the Betas emerged from the scrap with 46 points, first place, and the cup.

The Phi Gams by gathering a few firsts and placing in most of the other events, nosed out their nearest rivals, the Kappa Sigs, for 39 points and second place.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASEBALL

Eight teams entered the inter-fraternity baseball series last spring. The Phi Gam nine won the American League, while the National loop went to the Sigma Chis. In the play off, the Fijis whitewashed the Sigs by a 7-1 score.

Despite the early hour called for the games, 6 a. m., good crowds attended the contests. Pitchers were noticeable by their absence, and the game degenerated into slugfests for the better part of the time, with fast out-fielders being in demand.

FALL COMPETITION CUP

The Fall inter-fraternity competition includes tennis, horseshoes, cross country run, and swimming.

Jack Kintz, flashy Tiger distance man, won the cross country race again this year for the second successive year. In doing so Kintz established a new record of 15 minutes, 18-7 seconds for the course.

By winning the swim meet by an overwhelming score and the finals in the tennis singles and doubles the Kappa Sigs emerged victorious with a comfortable lead over their two nearest competitors, the Sigma Chis and Phi Gams.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

This year's campus league was one of the closest in several years. The regular season ended in a three-way tie, the Kappa Sigs, Phi Gams, and Sigma Chis sharing first place honors. The season ended just before spring vacation so play was resumed immediately following vacation with each of the winning teams playing each other for the Greek league championship.

Slater, Fiji center, led the scorers followed closely by Heter, Sigma Chi, and Van Dyke, Fiji forward.

The Women's Athletic Association, more commonly spoken of as W. A. A., has experienced an unusually successful year. Early last fall the new club house was formally dedicated, and throughout the year W. A. A. has sponsored athletic activities for women. In May the annual May Festival was held.

W. A. A.

The W. A. A. is a member of the National Athletic Conference of American College Women and its purpose is to promote interest in athletics among women. All girls interested in athletics may become members.

A tennis tournament was staged this spring, and golf was inaugurated among the gym classes this year.

Freshman girls won a swim meet sponsored by the organization just before Christmas vacation.

A hike is given every two weeks for members, with points given for every mile hiked. This winter the annual inter-society basketball meet was staged under the sponsorship of the organization, with the Zetaethians winning the meet, while the freshman girls won the inter-class contests.

Any girl in school is eligible for membership. Fifty points must be earned before a girl may become a member. These points may be obtained through participation in any kind of athletics, including basketball, tennis, swimming, golf, archery, and a score of others.

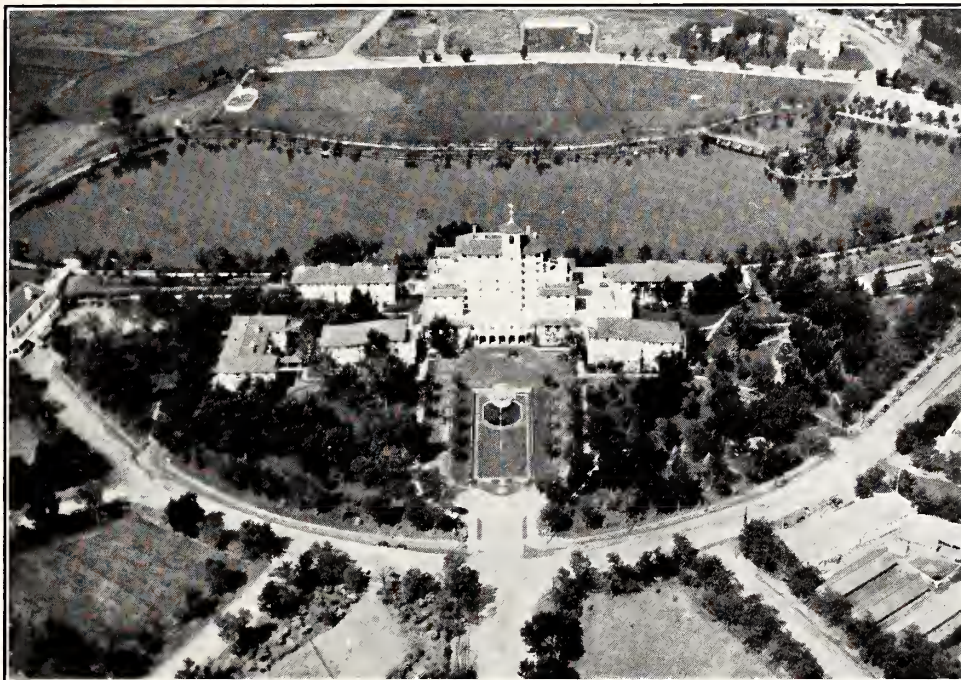

The standings in the inter-society and inter-class hoop meets were as follows:

The Cycle of Evolution

Or: Fish is fish, even if it does have curly hair.

With music, sound effects, and pictorial embellishments by Harding, campus beauty queen, Sweetheart of Pi K. A., and prominent hasher of the collitch.

This ain't the progress—it's the CYCLE of evolution, cycle meaning, according to Webster "A circuitous path which returns to its beginning." Or, as we mathematicians might put it—exhibit A, on the bottom of the pile, is a brother and fellow creature (notice marked resemblance in the oral aperture) of exhibit K, who leads the parade.

Darwin, in his treatise on this series, states that the main difference in the top and bottom members of the group is that the top members has a necktie on, while the lower number in the exhibition is capable of thinking at least the primary thoughts necessary to existence.

This is a safeguard to part A, who would blush with shame unless his relative had something to distinguish the two.

Mr. Darwin's work—and life, were cut short by our hero's dusky neighbor, who hammered the eminent evolutionist to death upon being told that Harding represented much the same type of Homo Sapiens as the colored gent did.

(Table by Putman and Co., publishers, New York.)

Brother Coit called the meeting to order at 8 P. M. The first hour of the meeting was taken up with roll call and then the business of the meeting began. Brother Thurston moved that chapter meetings in the future be held in Washburn Stadium because of the crowded condition of the chapter house on meeting nights. The motion was passed and there was much rejoicing as the new plan will give all the brothers a place to sit down during meetings. Brother Thurston asked if any of the brothers knew the pledge who roomed across the hall from him. Brother Ingraham reported that it was pledge Smith from New England. It was decided to bring in all the pledges at the next meeting and introduce them around. Brother Ingraham was chosen to do the introducing as he knows a lot of men around the campus and almost all the brothers and pledges. Brothers Jones and Price were excused in order that they might get out to Bethel before closing time. Brother Blodgett announced that the Beta Spring party was to be the twenty-third of May, and at his suggestion the multitude rose, bowed their heads and prayed for rain on the twenty-third of May in regular Kappa Sigma fashion. As there was no further business the meeting was brought to a close. Brother Coit asked the brothers to march out by rows in so that there would not be too much confusion at the front door.

Meeting called to order by President Doyle. Roll call—23 brothers absent due to a Minerva house warming. Brother Reid led those remaining in prayer. After 15 minutes, order was obtained long enough to excuse Brother Weaver, who had an attack of hiccoughs.

Brother Keyser read a plan which would give Sigma Chi president of the student body, senior, junior, and sophomore man, football and basketball captaincy, editors and managers of the Nugget and Tiger, and other campus officers. Plan unanimously adopted and a committee was appointed to confer with Minerva, Hypatia, Delta Alpha Phi, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Delta Theta concerning votes.

Brother Slocum fined 10 cents for snoring during meeting.

The matter of adjournment was brought up and passed by the three brothers who hadn't fallen asleep already. The chapter shoved off for the jungle at 8:10 p. m., mountain standard time.

Meeting called to order by the chairman at 7:30. Brother D. Scott given permission to leave. Brother T. Scott was scored for taking blankets from the house and returning them in a muddy condition.

Brother W. Haney was given permission to leave.

Brother Roark made a pathetic plea for the chapter to get behind the college Y. M. C. A. and support its start, in order to give a more christian attitude to the college.

Brother Short was given permission to leave.

Brother D. Haney given permission to leave. The chair tells the brothers to take care of such matters before meeting.

Brother Mercer cautioned about running about the house at night in his underwear, especially when house dances are in progress.

Due to the ping-pong tournament which is to be decided tonight, the meeting adjourned at 7:45.

Meeting called for 7:30—Brother Esch present on time. At 8:00 brother Ridge hove into view, making the majority of members necessary for a quorum. Meeting called to order.

Brother Ridge, president, vice-president, and treasurer, moved that the club buy some furniture, so that the brethren would not have to sit on the floor at meetings. Seconded by Brother Esch, secretary and sergeant at arms who also moved that the chapter back Harding in the beauty contest. Both motions passed.

Meeting adjourned when a gendarme appears at the door looking for an ice box and porch swing that had disappeared from the north end an hour ago. After finding these articles, the law left, and the chapter—both of them, ambled off to Murray's

Annual meeting for the organization of a co-operative barb group called for 8:00 p. m. Camp and Mason on deck. Camp and Mason promptly organized "The Co-operative Barb Group," with the former as president and treasurer, and the latter as the other officers and other half of the voting majority.

Ten Thousand (10,000) shares of stock were issued, to put the organization on a paying basis. Camp bought 5,001 shares for ten cents, in order to keep his position as president.

After deciding to keep the track and basketball championships, president of the student body, and editorships of both publications for the barbs—and letting the small fry and fraternities fight among themselves for the other positions, the meeting ambled off the Hagerman, where the two men continued their work on their forthcoming treatise on "The Dangers and Pitfalls of Fraternities; or Only a Dodo Would Join a College Lodge."

In this cage, ladees and gemmun, we have the ONLY man in captivity who has put everything in the college on a paying basis, from football programs to center position on the football association. Not only has this man wrung blood from a turnip, and money from places from where it heretofore weren't—including 'most every dance, prom, interfraternity, and periodical managership that the old institute boasts of, and some that it doesn't boast of, but he has done something that others have overlooked—he has gotten by with it and made people like it. The only man in the senior class who has his ultimate destination in life narrowed down to two choices, Doc Weaver, who will either be a millionaire, or a number, in less than ten years—we guess the former.

Gump Saunders rapped for order at one of the better social houses on Cascade avenue. Pink Hinkley called the roll. Moose Starbuck was criticized for allowing Liz Miller to wash dishes in the kitchen. Bull thrower Heaney reported that he was now in a dead heat with Manley and Hadfield for the smart aleck-ist frosh on the campus.

A protest against wrestler Bill Baker by Willis was read and stricken from the minutes. Speeder Van Dyke was charged with desertion by one of the more notorious Wood avenue citizens, calling forth a dissertation on "purity for Phi Gamma Delta" by Virgin Hibbard.

Lasley's and Nichols' statement that "Laving a baby isn't anything to be ashamed of, anyway," was stricken from the minutes. Rutherford's "maid a week" contest was endorsed.

Henritze renounced T. Herbert in one of his more lucid moments.

The frosh Broadmoor mail carriers had their hands slapped, and the meeting has adjourned.

The meeting was called to order at eight, straight up, by Brother Amos Irwin. The vigilantes committee was again urged to continue their search for Brothers Sherk, Kelley, Rice, and Burno—who had been missing for four days. McGrory was fined four bits for breaking in the back door.

Brother house manager Stapleton asked that the brothers keep their hair tonic and snake bite medicine out of the piano, since some of it ate the ivory off the keys last week.

Brother Peterson suggested that hereafter luminous paint be used in painting the bathroom, since he had met disaster while the last paint job was still fresh.

The social committee announced that due to the Emancipation Proclamation, it would be impossible to have a candy sale, because of the danger of auctioning off Brother Nowels.

The meeting adjourned to hear Brother Smith's talk in the city auditorium on "Why Edna Wallace Hopper is a Piker When it Comes to Having a Peach Fuzz Complexion;" before the W. C. T. U.

Meeting called to order by the president early in the evening. Order obtained one hour later when brother Miles was tossed out.

Brother Stroup criticized the chapter for not upholding the club's scholarship average, and allowing a fraternity like Kappa Sigma to surpass them.

Brother Cotner reported for the social committee. The spring formal will either be held at Cobweb Inn. Favors will be miniature Phi Beta Kappa keys. He asked that the brothers date more Hypatias and Minervas to give a better air to the dance.

Brother Row was reprimanded for cooking cabbage in the living room. It leaves a bad impression with visitors who come to the house and don't know the cause of the smell. Brother Row, in defense, stated that he only did it to keep collectors away, whereupon he was complimented for having the interest of good old D. A. P. lawdge at heart.

Meeting adjourned to allow the brothers to pursue to elusive scholarship cup, since they didn't have any ash trays left now that the cup had gone elsewhere.

In the absence of President Wiley, who was out getting an education in one thing and another from a gentleman friend, the meeting was hammered into some resemblance of order by sister Patterson, who led the squad in prayer for Contemp's progress, and at the same time for a new telescope to be used in Hagermanning.

Sister Johnson moved that the chapter take out an eleventh mortgage on the homestead in order to get a radio, and keep abreast of the Minervas. The motion was voted down, since the chapter decided to take radios out on trial, as did the Minervas, for eight or ten months, and thereby kill two stones with one bird.

Sister Pipkin was elceted to the official position of taxi driver for any man on the campus that might be seduced into the lodge to give an atmosphere of social prestige to the observatory.

Three hundred and two (302) alumnae came to the meeting wondering why their society, altho one of the oldest in the institute, had failed to purchase a new house by this time. They were appeased by the statement that the chapter had but three more payments to make on the still in the cellar, and one more payment on the cocktail shaker and set of glasses, and that the chapter would build as soon as these were taken care of.

The meeting went to pieces when the same whistle that broke up the hyp cat party, drifted across the campus.

MINERVA

President Perkins called the meeting to order and the secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting. Secretary Prather asks to be excused from meeting to get the minutes from Birt. The minutes were read and after numerous corrections and alterations were accepted. Miss Easton moved that we invite the other half of the Kappa Sigs to the next Hour Dance as only half of the chapter was able to get inside the house at the regular Kappa Sig Hour. After much discussion the motion was passed. Gragg left the meeting mad as usual. Gretzinger and Fuller asked to be excused to go to the library to study. Keyser met them at the door and they left for the library via the mesa. Sister Wehrle was presented with a leather bound edition of "What a Young Woman Should Know in School and Other Places." Miss Melis suggested that due to a little slip up on the number of girls pledged this year more faculty members should be made honorary members. This proposition was unanimously passed on, and Miss Melis was given her second gold star for smart contributions. The meeting was adjourned to let the girls listen to a favorite radio program that was just coming on the air.

Because Goddamity himself couldn't swerve me from my purpose to have the student body in a position where I could swing them around my head by the tail; because I ran for president of the student body and editor of the Tiger at the same time so I could do the aforementioned swinging with greater facility; and because I am the only one in school capable of putting Keyser up where Keyser should be—for these reasons, I predict that I will make a howling success in life. Why wasn't I elected to all this? Well, I guess it was just a little bad luck, thassall.

HYPATIA

President Lowell called the pants chasers to order and the roll was called. All the members were present as it was Monday night and most of the he-men on the campus were in fraternity meetings. Sister Blotz reported on the plans for the next dance. It was suggested that the black list be revised as some of the old society favorites had not been acting as gentlemen at the last party. After much discussion the following names were added to the list: Doc Weaver, Art Kelly, Inky Ingraham, Tom Scott, Harold Cotner, Ike Ridge, and the Phi Gam pledges. After the "bad boy" list had been completed the meeting took a less serious aspect. Sister Seebach moved that Hypatia petition for a chapter of Pi Phi. She stated that she had heard some songs about the Pi Phis and that she thought that it would be a good sorority to belong to.

Sister Moore thought that we should petition Delta Gamma so that the Betas and the Phi Delt would stop singing "Oh, There are no Delta Gammas at C. C." The meeting was turned into a turmoil as each of the sisters named her favorite sorority. The meeting broke up in a rush for the door when some unsuspecting individual, walking down the street, whistled something that sounded like a combination of the Beta and Phi Delt whistles.

This ain't a pitcher of Aphrodite, nor a Woodbury's soap advertisement,—it ain't even a pretty girl, it is none other than Brute Gigolo Smith, pretty boy of the institute, lady killer de luxe, pampered child of Venus, lounge lizard of Bemis—or wherever the fillies are to be found, and general handy man and filler in when a real NICE boy is needed to impress the chaperones with what SWEET young men you have to your parties. “No, lady, he is not spoiled—that’s the perfume he uses that you smell.”

ZETALETHIAN

The intelligentsia crew got together in informal meeting at the library, due to the impossibility of the members leaving their books.

The members that had made a name (good) for themselves on the campus were commended. These included sister Strachan for her work in drama, sister Strachan for her work in W. A. A., sister Strachan for her work in the May fete, and sister Strachan for her work on the A. W. S. board. Sister Turner was fined ten cents for her work in the jungle during five days of last week and told that the fine would be repeated if she was not capable of making it seven days a week. Some "Somebody around this here jernt has to be a heller with the men" said sister Edwards in summing up the situation.

The bookworms voted another housewarming, in the hopes that the alumnae would rally 'round with some new curtains, thicker and more opaque (to be used on party nights) which were badly needed, since the happenings on the inside of the house—supposedly know only to God, the Zetas, and the chosen few men who get within the holy of holies; were beginning to leak out around the campus, and consequently there were whisperings of blackmail, shotguns, and other things that belong only to the Hypatias and Chicago.

The meeting did not adjourn,—it was adjourned by the librarian who suggested that the girls "stop egging on the boys across the table, this is a library, not a harem."

THEIR HEARTS BEAT AS ONE—

He: "Will you marry me after we graduate?"

She: "No, a business career for me. I'm starting the Summer term at Blair's Business College on June 15."

He: "That's an idea! I'm going, too."

She: "But your work?"

He: "I'll work days and go to Blair's Night School."

She: "Splendid."

He: "After we're all through, will you marry me?"

She: "Surely—we'll have our business career together."

He: "Great!—Let's Go!"

THIEVES CARRY OFF SMALL BUILDING

Not content with loot of a smaller and more easily handled nature, burglars sought the home of T. O. Herrera, 502 East Moreno avenue, some time between midnight and 7:30 o'clock this morning and removed an entire outhouse of the design made famous by Chic Sale, it was learned today.

Officer George Taylor, who investigated, reported at police headquarters that a well built frame shack had been taken, measuring four feet long, three and a half feet wide and six feet tall. There was no trace of the thieves, who apparently wanted only the building, as several articles were left on the ground.

The job was believed to be the work of lumber thieves, or someone who had a special use for such a building, such as college boys planning bonfires.
